Since its beginning, Aérostat has been a favorite of designers for its classic diffuser shape reminiscent of a contemporary schoolhouse design style. The Guillaume Delvigne-designed collection offers universal appeal to both modern and more traditional design styles.

Aérostat is a complete collection including pendants, wall/ceiling fixtures, and table and floor lamps, all realized in glossy white blown glass and offered with or without a metal base. Our team of master glass craftsmen crafts each glass in the Veneto region of Italy. Aérostat's range of types and lamp choices make this a go-to collection for residential and commercial projects.

The collection comprises pendant and wall/ceiling lamps in three different sizes paired with table, floor, and pendant lamps in two sizes with three different finishes for their metal base: black-coated nickel, brass, or copper. This prevailing collection, designed for indoor spaces, has integral LED or E26 lamp base options with many variations stocked in the United States and ready for quick shipment.
